NOTE FOR SANDY BERGER

Sandy,

Bob Bell tells me that the PFIAB report on chemical and biological warfare is now being reviewed at the NSC and that a memorandum on the report will be sent to the President. One of the recommendations of the report is that the position of a czar for defense against chemical and biological warfare be created.

Bob tells me that since joining the executive branch he has been less inclined to favor czars, who upset the orderly process of administration, than he had been theretofore. On the other hand, he recognizes that something that is everybody's baby is nobody's baby. He was not sure where they will come out on this issue.

As I heretofore mentioned to you, Bud Zumwalt is greatly interested in taking this position. Because of his outstanding military record and his engagement with Agent Orange, his appointment would be viewed favorably by practically all interested parties. The Pentagon's failure to deal promptly with the issue of Gulf War syndrome would also cause the general public to credit the Administration in this case with wisdom for creating the job and filling it with a person as appropriately qualified as Bud. After a long career in the military, Bud would also know how to minimize the problem of cutting across the areas of responsibility of other officials. Finally, I am sure the President would like to do this for Bud.

Dick Schifter
